Annual reports

Download and view copies of our 2009, 2008 and 2007 annual reports. The reports bring you all your professional body's highlights from the past 12 months, from campaign and lobbying updates to the latest facts and figures.

Annual report 2009

From the president

"Health and safety is naturally a collaborative discipline. As the world's biggest health and safety professional body, IOSH plays a critical part in helping this happen"

Nattasha Freeman President 2008-09

Annual report online

Last year we asked our members if they'd be happy to receive the annual report online. The answer was a resounding 'yes', so this year we've created a microsite for our annual report. This means we've been able to minimise our environmental impact and still give our members this important information. We hope you like it and that you enjoy reading about the achievements IOSH made during the last financial year.

OSH research database

"Our professional body is speaking out on the problems in schools and in workplaces and offering practical solutions to make a difference. It's seeing these campaigns in action that makes being part of IOSH the reward it is."

Annual report 2007

Passionate, professional people

"As a profession, we're committed to marrying practice with policy, and to making things happen, not just talking about them. I think our 2007 report reflects that commitment. My sincere thanks to everyone who has helped us deliver a range of results to be proud of this year."

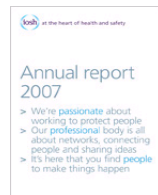

Lisa Fowlie
President 2006-07
