

Life€ Savings: call for new case studies

IOSH is looking for new case studies to continue to demonstrate to businesses and the government how good health and safety management saves lives and money.

If you've delivered significant benefits to your organisation through a health and safety initiative, then fill out this form and post it to IOSH Ireland Branch, A11 Calmount Park, Ballymount, Dublin 12.

Your success story will be promoted on the IOSH website, in SHP magazine, Connect, and on our social media channels. Read our current case studies at www.iosh.co.uk/lifesavingsireland.

What does your company do?

What was the initiative that you implemented?

Why did you implement this initiative?

What was the result of this initiative? For example, was there a reduction in injury and ill health?

How much did the initiative cost to put in place?

What are the benefits to the business?

- Has it saved money? If so, how much?
- Has it increased productivity, provided better protection for workers, reduced absence rates, or improved staff morale?

Thank you for your time
