

PRESIDENTIAL TEAM

Craig Foyle – President, November 2017 to September 2018

Craig is a Chartered Fellow of IOSH (CFIOSH) and has over twenty-five years' experience in engineering construction for the chemical, food and drink and pharmaceutical industries. He specialises in project safety management, training and management systems. Craig has been a director of Foyle Safety & Management Limited since 2009, providing SHE management consultancy support for multi-national clients across the world. In addition, he also lectures on health and safety management at the University of Hull.

Craig has been an active member of IOSH for many years and has supported the branch network in various roles, including the Chair of the Humber Branch, and continues to support the committee. He is passionate about trying to raise the profile of safety and health practitioners and consultants and is the Vice Chair of the Consultancy Group, acting as the Chair from 2013 to 2017 before taking over as President Elect in 2016. He took over the role of President of IOSH in November 2017 and is engaging with members, business and other stakeholders to drive IOSH forward.

Dr Vincent Ho – President Elect, November 2017- September 2018

Prof Vincent Ho is a Chartered Fellow of IOSH with over 30 years of experience in transportation and nuclear industries specializing in quantitative risk assessment, system safety and assurance, ERM, as well as security analysis. He works for the Hong Kong based MTR Corporation as its Head of Corporate Safety overseeing safety governance for all MTR railway and property operations in Hong Kong, as well as in Sweden, UK, Australia, and China. He is an Adjunct Professor teaches risk management and safety in MSc and BSc programmes in Hong Kong.

Vincent actively promotes the applications of risk management in enhancing safety; he is the Founding Chairman of Hong Kong Association of Risk Management and Safety, and he had served as the President of International Association of Probabilistic Safety Assessment and Management from 2008 to 2010. Vincent served in the Council between 2009-2015 and as VP between 2015-2017. He is a former Chair of IOSH Hong Kong Branch, and was awarded the IOSH Presidents Distinguished Service Award in 2005 and 2008. Vincent holds BS, MS, PHD, and MBA from the University of California, Los Angeles, and he is also a Fellow of the Institute of Mechanical Engineers, the Chartered Institute of Logistic and Transport, and The Hong Kong Institution of Engineers.

Graham Parker, Immediate Past President, November 2017 to September 2018

With over 20 years, Graham's career in occupational safety and health, has seen him specialise in logistics at chemist giant Boots, aviation at Aviation Defence International, property and facilities management at Yell, before joining one of the country's largest commercial real estate organisations Mapeley Estates as Head of Health and Safety.

Graham has represented IOSH at many levels, including President of IOSH in 2016/2017. Prior to that Graham has been a Council member, Vice President and President Elect. On a more local level Graham started volunteering as part of the branch executive of the South Coast Branch until 2005, when he moved to the Thames Valley Branch, of which he is currently Chair.

He had previously served on the IOSH Nominations Committee and was the IOSH representative for Safety Group UK's Management Committee. Graham had been on the Networks Conference Members Advisory Panel for three years and chaired the judging panel of the 'IOSH NFTS Awards', which won the inaugural President's Alliance Award. In addition, Graham has been a member of the IOSH Communications MAP and Judge on the Excellence in Communications Awards.

Graham continues to represent IOSH on the ROSPA Sir George Earle Awards Panel.

Andrew Sharman – Vice-President, November 2015 – September 2018

Andrew is Chief Executive of RMS, a global consultancy specializing in organizational safety culture and leadership. Prior to joining RMS Andrew spent almost 20 years holding H&S leadership roles for several international blue chip companies gaining experience of more than 100 countries around the globe. Proud to be a Chartered Safety Practitioner and Chartered Fellow of IOSH, Andrew is also a Chartered Fellow of the Institute of Leadership & Management; Fellow of the Institute of Directors; and a Member of the Health & Safety Lawyers' Association. He served as Trustee and Vice Chairman of the Board of IOSH between 2008-2014, and previously held roles as Branch Secretary, Vice Chair and Chair of the Edinburgh Branch of IOSH. Andrew holds Masters degrees in Organizational Behaviour and also in International Health & Safety Law. He is Professor of Leadership & Safety Culture at the Centre for Executive Development at INSEAD, France and Professor of Risk & Culture at the University of Zurich, Switzerland. He speaks regularly at professional conferences on the topics of safety behaviour, culture and leadership. His 2014 TED talk continues to change perceptions around risk and fear in modern society and has now been watched by over 5,000 people

Far from risk-averse, Andrew loves adventure sports including paragliding, sea kayaking and swimming with sharks.

Bridget Gilmour – Vice-President, November 2016-September 2019

Bridget is a Chartered Fellow of IOSH and a Professional Member of the CSSE. Bridget is Owner and Director of Hundred Acre (GB) Ltd delivering health and safety consultancy services and training to businesses of all sizes across the UK and beyond. Bridget grew up around safety and has worked full time in the profession for over 20 years. She has volunteered for IOSH since 2008 in a number of roles for branch, group, MAP's and as a mentor and also sits and chairs panels for Peer Interviews and more recently on panels for Fellowship interviews. Bridget has also volunteered for the CSSE since 2012 as a member of the Outreach Committee where she was project lead of the group who developed the CSSE publication "A Guide for Employers on Hiring a Safety Professional" and is a member of the Sustainability Working Group.

Michelle Muxworthy – Vice-President, November 2016 – September 2019

Michelle is a chartered Fellow of IOSH and an Executive member of IOSH Yorkshire Branch. She has volunteered for IOSH for over 14 years holding various positions including Branch chair at Yorkshire Branch, Networks Member Advisory Panel and serving on Council. Michelle has a post graduate diploma in Occupational Health & Safety Management and a Master's Degree from the University of Huddersfield in Risk Disaster and Environmental Management. Michelle has worked mainly in high risk chemical & manufacturing environments and is currently the site Head of HSE & BC for a global pharmaceuticals manufacturer.

A girl guiding UK brownie leader Michelle is passionate about supporting young people to develop to be their best and realise their leadership potential.

James Quinn – Vice-President, November 2017 – September 2020

After a very successful career in the British Army, for 24 years, James attained the rank of Warrant Officer before leaving in 2011. Whilst in his last 6 years he saw the benefits of Health and Safety as a second career and using his army appointments started to train as a Health and Safety Advisor/Trainer in 2006. Five years later, after leaving the army, having worked on many army health and safety projects, he worked for Babcock International PLC as a HSE Trainer, then Advisor before becoming a Health and Safety Manager for a large Middle East transport group. He is now the Area OHS Manager, Abu Dhabi, for Multiplex after recently being promoted from Project Senior HSE Manager working on the Al Maryah Central project, which he still retains as his main focus as a site presently, where they are the main contractor. A Chartered member of IOSH, James is also a Fellow of the Chartered Management Institute, was the IOSH CPD/IPD Lead for the IOSH Middle East Committee for 4 years, is driven by behavioral change in safety/education and begins his MSc in January with Hull University.

Jonathan Hughes – Vice-President, November 2017 – September 2020

Jonathan is a Chartered Member of IOSH with 16 years' experience in health and safety. He has extensive experience in managing, influencing and communicating risk management throughout an organisation. Jonathan has been a member of the IOSH Council since 2015, and served as Chair of the Staffordshire Branch for three years, where he is currently Vice Chair and mentor. Jonathan leads the health and safety training business unit at the global business consultancy Turner & Townsend, and provides a range of high-level services to clients, such as executive training and strategic audit, where his clients value the pragmatic and commercially-minded advice that he provides. Jonathan has completed a range of training courses and qualifications, and holds the NEBOSH Level 6 Diploma in the Management of Occupational Safety and Health, and is a BSI-trained 18001 Lead Auditor. Jonathan is a regular contributor to the industry and wider media, and regularly presents at the various health and safety events and exhibitions.

Louise Hosking – Vice-President, November 2017 – September 2018

Louise has over 26 years of experience working in OSH. A Chartered Safety & Health Practitioner, OSHCR Registered Consultant, Qualified Environmental Health Officer and Director and sole owner of Hosking Associates Ltd which was established in July 2005. Also a certified member of APS, Practitioner of IEMA & Specialist Member of IIRSM.

Louise has been involved with CDM application since its inception in 1994 and has a passion for encouraging organisations to eliminate risk via better design. She works with a wide range of organisations to support them in managing their own risk and is on a mission to change the perception of “Elf & Safety” within the popular press by searching out positive drivers and working with industry leaders. Louise is a property and facilities management specialist who also works extensively with contractors supporting this sector. Louise contributes written pieces, articles and opinions in a range of magazines and on-line publications.

Louise is the current Chair and previous Vice Chair of IOSH Chiltern Branch and a Member of the IOSH Consultancy Group committee.